Latin American Chamber of Commerce of Charlotte

Griselda (Gris) Bailey is the President/ CEO of the Latin American Chamber of Commerce of Charlotte. Bailey is an Independent Business Leader who builds effective communities and leadership teams to embody the mission of the organization, using constant assessment and strategic plans as a compass for growth and results. Bailey has over 20 years' experience in Leadership, Market Research, Business Development, Sales Training, Marketing, Education, Policy, Reform and Social Impact Entrepreneurship.

Most recently, Bailey served as National Director for a national college planning firm where she helped launch and scale three separate companies. Prior to serving as National Director, Bailey taught in one of the nation's largest school districts and served as a seminar instructor and oversaw the Spanish Delegate Division at the national Notary Association. Bailey has also operated an independent consultant company for the past 12 years. In all of her roles, Bailey has made it a personal mission to help more minorities access to resources, tools and information that position them for growth and equity.

Bailey received a master's degree in Education from California State University and a Juris Doctorate Degree from Thomas Jefferson School of Law in San Diego. She also earned a certification in Entrepreneurship, Business Administration, and Management from Cornell University. She is an advocate for the Latinx community and believes that through the opportunities to bridge ideas and cultures, we create an equitable America, increase efficiency, creativity, and a productivity. Currently, she is raising a family and hopes that her two boys carry the legacy of breaking barriers, inequities, and biases through exchange of positive ideas and experiences.
