Loretta Boniti
Senior Political Reporter
Spectrum News

Since joining the Spectrum News team in 2009, Loretta has explored a multitude of topics. Taking a deep dive into the issues that matter most, Loretta introduces viewers to the many individuals and ideas associated with North Carolina's policymaking climate. Unique to Loretta's political coverage is her role as In Focus host, where she invites viewers to become active participants in North Carolina's political community, providing meaningful knowledge on the policies affecting their day-to-day lives. Speaking with experts from across the state, policymakers driving change, and those who will be affected by these decisions, she tells the important stories that shape North Carolina's political infrastructure.
