

NC Chamber

Business Summit on Mental Health

MAY 13, 2026

Kathy Colville, PhD, MSW, MSPH
Associate Dean and Clinical Associate Professor
Office of Community Engagement and Outreach
UNC Chapel Hill School of Social Work

Kathy serves as the UNC School of Social Work's associate dean of community engagement and outreach, a strategic initiative designed to foster collaboration among diverse parties within the Community, University and School of Social Work and cultivate dynamic partnerships to overcome the complex challenges we face together. Kathy has worked for decades in North Carolina communities, in public health, public schools and serving on human services boards. She was previously the president and CEO of the North Carolina Institute of Medicine, a nonpartisan statewide health policy organization, and she was the founding Director of the Healthy Communities department at Cone Health, working in partnership with community organizations on health equity, housing, access to medical care, food security, and environmental change.
