NOVEMBER 7, 2019 | DURHAM, NC

Kevin Doyle
Vice President of State Affairs
Consumer Energy Alliance

Kevin Doyle is the vice president of state affairs for Consumer Energy Alliance. Kevin also serves as the Chairman of the Board of Directors for CareerSource Florida, the state government's workforce and employment advisory agency. Prior to his work at CEA, Kevin served as state director for U.S. Senator Mel Martinez. As state director, Kevin was the senior staff member in Florida where he was responsible for briefing the Senator on all state issues and state policy initiatives. Senator Martinez served on the U.S. Senate Energy Committee which allowed Kevin to work with many energy stakeholders from across Florida. Kevin served as the Senator's regional political director for his 2004 election.

Prior to working for the Senator, Kevin had worked as a consultant for the New Zealand National Party in Wellington, New Zealand. Before arriving in Wellington, Kevin worked for the Speaker of the Florida House of Representatives in Tallahassee, Florida. Kevin has also lived and worked in Washington for 6 years where he worked for the Bush Administration as the deputy director for the 21st Century Workforce Office in the U.S. Department of Labor. Prior to that he worked at the White House in the Office of Presidential Personnel and also worked on Capitol Hill. On the Hill, he was the administrative director for the U.S. Congressional Joint Economic Committee under the leadership of U.S. Senator Connie Mack. Kevin has also worked at national political campaign headquarters both in Washington, DC and in London, England.

Kevin is from the Jacksonville, Florida area and was a student of the University of North Florida where he graduated with a degree in political science. He also studied abroad in Madrid, Spain and Moscow, Russia. He and his wife and daughter split time between Northeast Florida and Hayesville, North Carolina.
