

Dr. Eugene Flood
Managing Member
Flood Mason Holdings

Eugene Flood has focused his career on investment management and global macroeconomics. He is a Managing Member of Flood Mason Holdings, an early-stage team which focuses on impact investing, advice and research in three main areas: Health and disease prevention, sustainable energy/water solutions, and global wealth disparity.

Current Board activities:

Flood is a member of the Janus Henderson Group Board of Directors where he chairs the Board Risk Committee and is a member of the Human Capital and Compensation Committee. He is a member of the Board of Directors of First Citizens Bancshares where he serves as Chair of the Technology Committee and Chair of the Trust Committee and is a member of the Risk Committee. He is a Senior Advisor at 33 Capital Management, a global wealth management firm. He is a member of the Board of Directors of Grubb Properties, an investment firm that develops, operates and manages multifamily and mixed-use properties nationwide.

Flood is a member of the Board of Trustees and the Investment Committee of Boston Children's Hospital, one of the leading pediatric hospitals in the world. He also serves on the Board of Trustees of the Research Corporation for Science Advancement, a foundation that provides grants for outstanding early-career researchers in basic sciences.

Former Positions:

Earlier in his career Flood held leadership positions at TIAA, Morgan Stanley, Smith Breeden Associates, a global investment manager, and as a faculty member specializing in international finance at Stanford University's Graduate School of Business (GSB), lecturing in graduate and executive programs at the Stanford GSB, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Sloan School of Management, the Nomura School of Advanced Management in Tokyo, Japan, and the International Management Institute in Geneva, Switzerland.

Flood holds a PhD in Economics from the MIT and earned a bachelor of art's degree in economics at Harvard University.

For more information, please contact Flood directly at 919-636-4610 or Eugene.Flood@ACappellaPartners.com.