Nelle Hotchkiss

Chief Operating Officer and Senior Vice President, Association Services North Carolina's Electric Cooperatives

Nelle Hotchkiss has enjoyed working with North Carolina's Electric Cooperatives for more than 25 years and currently serves as Chief Operating Officer and Senior Vice President of the Association Services division of North Carolina's Electric Cooperatives. In this role, she oversees multiple departments including communications, marketing and advertising, publications, economic development, safety activities, and government relations.

Nelle volunteers her time to several community focused boards including NC Rural Center, College of Agriculture and Environment Sciences Business Advisory Board, North Carolina A&T University, and the North Carolina Agribusiness Council.

Together with its 26 electric cooperatives, Nelle and her team are creating a brighter future for North Carolina's rural people and their communities through innovation and purposeful action. Guided by their local roots, North Carolina's electric cooperatives are delivering reliable, sustainable electricity and valued services to cooperative members at the lowest possible cost.

A native of Richmond, Virginia, Nelle holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, New York.
