

WOMEN A FORCE IN BUSINESS

NOVEMBER 16, 2021 > RALEIGH CONVENTION CENTER WITH VIRTUAL OPTION

Sterling Ingui
VP, Business Information Security Officer
Fidelity Investments

Sterling Ingui, Vice President, Information Security Officer at Fidelity Investments. Sterling works to keep Fidelity cyber safe and secure while enabling continued growth of business in workplace investing, healthcare and cryptocurrency industries. She has a passion for delivering digital solutions, leveraging data insights and enhancing the customer experience.

Before moving into cybersecurity at Fidelity, Sterling was a product leader and started a go to market functional team in Fidelity Labs. Prior to Fidelity, Sterling held roles at IBM, American Express, Duke and Tiffany & Co.

Sterling serves as a NC Regional Site Leader, sponsor of NC Women in Technology Special Interest Group, Advisor to NC Women's Leadership Group, and Career Coach at Fidelity. She was a mentor for the winner of the 2019 Female Founders in FinTech, member of the Alliance of Women in Tech Leadership, and serves as a Board of Trustee for Durham Academy.

Sterling earned her MBA from Duke's The Fuqua School of Business and a BA from Columbia University. She lives in Durham, NC with her husband and two children.