DURHAM, NC

Mark McIntire
Director, Government Affairs
Duke Energy

Mark McIntire serves as Director of Government and Environmental Affairs for the North Carolina Government Affairs team. Prior to joining the Government Affairs team, he held several roles at Duke Energy, including Director, Stakeholder Strategy, Energy and Environmental Affairs Director, Strategic Water Engineer and Air Quality Engineer. Before arriving at Duke Energy, Mark worked as a consulting engineer focused on infrastructure and sustainability, managing large projects in the US and the Middle East.

Mark has over 25 years of engineering, government affairs and stakeholder engagement experience in Raleigh, having spent the first 10 years of his career as an environmental engineer and manager with the North Carolina Department of Environmental Quality. He has deep relationships within the energy industry and the executive branch of government in North Carolina.

Mark previously served as President on the Board of Directors of the Friends of the North Carolina Museum of Natural Sciences, is a member of the board of the American Red Cross of the Triangle and serves on the Industrial Advisory Board of the NCSU College of Engineering's Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering. He is a licensed Professional Engineer, a member of the American Academy of Environmental Engineers and a Carbon Reduction Manager through the Association of Energy Engineers. He is also a member of Class XXVI of Leadership North Carolina.

Mark spent his teenage years in the Republic of Panama and came to Raleigh for college, where he received a Bachelor of Science in Environmental Engineering and Master of Civil Engineer from North Carolina State University.
