

Ag Allies Conference

OCTOBER 15, 2021
RALEIGH, NC WITH VIRTUAL OPTION

Andrew McCrea
Speaker, Radio and TV Broadcaster, Farmer, Author

Andrew McCrea is a farmer and rancher, an award-winning radio and tv broadcaster and a nationally recognized speaker.

He is the host of a nationally broadcast radio and television feature, "The American Countryside," a program that has won five NAFB Oscars for rural and agricultural broadcasting. His broadcasting work has taken him to all fifty states and six continents to interview thousands of guests for his program. His broadcasts are heard daily on nearly 100 radio stations and Sirius XM satellite radio.

He continues to own and manage the farm and ranch where he was born and raised. McCrea Farms has crop and pastureland in northwest Missouri raising corn, soybeans and beef cattle. He has also served agriculture as a past chairman of the Missouri Beef Industry Council and a representative to the US Meat Export Federation. He remains active in many agricultural groups, both as a participant and as a frequent speaker.

He is the author of six books, including his latest title, "Total Town Makeover," which provides insights on what small towns and rural America are doing to survive and thrive. His TotalTownMakeover.com website provides communities with free resources and ideas on how they can create positive change and build leadership capacity.

He continues to farm near Maysville, Missouri, where he is the fifth generation to operate the family farm.
