

AN NC CHAMBER EVENT

Conference on Education

AUGUST 20, 2019 | DURHAM, NC

Dr. Patrick C. Miller
Superintendent
Greene County Schools

Dr. Patrick C. Miller is the superintendent of Greene County Schools, NC. He was appointed to this position in January 2008.

After graduating from UNC-Chapel Hill in 1993, Dr. Miller taught choral music/theater arts at Greene Central High School for 10 years before accepting the NC Principal Fellows scholarship. He graduated twice from ECU - once in 2005 with a Master of School Administration and again in 2011 with a Doctor of Education.

Dr. Miller is very active in professional organizations at the state and national levels, and he has participated in numerous leadership programs while serving Greene County Schools. He is a frequent presenter at conferences at both the state and national levels.

He serves on numerous Boards of Directors, commissions and committees at the local, state, and national levels. He currently serves as the immediate past president of the North Carolina Alliance for School Leadership Development (NCASLD). In 2017, he was appointed to and elected chair of the North Carolina Professional Educator Preparation and Standards Commission (PEPSC). Dr. Miller was also appointed to the Governor's Commission on Access to Sound, Basic Education in the fall of 2017.

Dr. Miller was named North Carolina's Central Region Superintendent of the Year for 2014-15 and again in 2018-19. In November 2018, he was named the 2019 A. Craig Phillips NC Superintendent of the Year. Miller was inducted into the East Carolina University Educator's Hall of Fame in October 2015. He received the Friday Medal for Educational Innovation in November 2017. In the spring of 2018, Miller was named the Greene County "Citizen of the Year" by the Greene County Chamber of Commerce. Miller received the inaugural Administrator of the Year Award from Conn-Selmer Education in June 2019.

Dr. Miller lives in Snow Hill with his wife, Becky, and their children. The oldest, Paul, is a sophomore at UNC-Chapel Hill. James is a sophomore at Greene Central High School. His daughter, Mary Amantha, is two years old!