

AN NC CHAMBER EVENT

Conference on Education

AUGUST 20, 2019 | DURHAM, NC

David Schwenker
Principal
Wake STEM Early College High School

David Schwenker is a lifetime educator with a Bachelor of Science in elementary education and psychology from Houghton College, a master's in educational leadership from North Carolina State University and Superintendent's Certification from East Carolina University. He began his career as an elementary school teacher in Wake County before transitioning into the role of administrator. As a school administrator in Wake County for the past 24 years, David has successfully led schools at all levels, including traditional and magnet elementary schools, a magnet middle school, and comprehensive magnet high schools before landing at Wake STEM Early College High School. He leads with the premise that all students can and will succeed if provided the opportunity.
