WOMEN LEAD NC

DECEMBER 2, 2026 I RALEIGH, NC

Kari Stoltz
President, Bank of America – Triangle Region
Bank of America

In addition to her position as a Private Client Advisor with the Bank of America Private Bank, Kari has served as the President for Bank of America of the Triangle region of North Carolina since 2009. In this role, she coordinates and integrates product and service delivery for all lines of business to bring the full resources of the company to the region. She also represents Bank of America's local leadership team as the senior leader in community and civic activities.

Kari joined Bank of America in 1991 as a management trainee in the Management Associate Program for Consumer Banking. In 1993, she moved to Global Commercial Banking where she completed the Commercial Banking Relationship Manager Development Program. Her professional experience with Bank of America includes various leadership positions in Consumer Banking, Business Banking, and Global Commercial Banking, as well as a specialty in treasury/cash management.

Active in civic and community affairs throughout her career, Kari serves on the boards of the following organizations: the N.C. Museum of History Foundation and North Carolina Chamber and is the Chair of the University of North Carolina Board of Visitors. Additionally, Kari is a member of the Dix Park Conservancy Board of Trustees and the Carolina Women's Leadership Council's Executive Committee.

Kari received her B.A. in history from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Kari and her husband live in Raleigh and have two children. Her hobbies include golf, skiing, fitness, art and reading. She is a wine enthusiast and enjoys international travel.
