Renee Venegas
Senior Manager for State & District Partnerships
Khan Academy

Renee Venegas, Senior Manager for State & District Partnerships at Khan Academy, began her career teaching in a rural California district where she saw firsthand the challenges facing historically under-resourced populations. Her lens is influenced by her experiences from nearly 25 years in the classroom and edtech working alongside a variety of districts, states, and Departments of Education across the United States. Renee's work at Khan Academy has been focused on closing the tech and equity gaps across the Mid-Atlantic & Southeast by providing high-quality instructional materials including Khan Academy's generative AI tool, Khanmigo.
