Jerome Williams, Jr, MD
Senior Vice President of Consumer Engagement
Novant Health, Inc.

Dr. Jerome Williams, Jr is a practicing interventional cardiologist and senior vice president of Consumer Engagement and Corporate Health for Novant Health (NH). Born and raised in New York, Dr. Williams attended the City College of NY, earned his medical degree from New York University School of Medicine, completed an internal medicine residency at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, and cardiology fellowship at Yale University. Recently he completed his MBA from Wake Forest University School of Business. Over the decades Dr. Williams has appreciated the opportunity to add value to a variety of divisions throughout Novant in his role as medical director of research, chairman and chief of cardiology, and member of the Heart and Vascular Institute system council. In addition to his strategic leadership role as SVP, Dr. Williams serves as a physician leader on the NH Health Equity Council, and the NH CEO Growth and Strategy Council. He also serves as vice chairman for the NH Accountable Care Organization, and board member of NH Medicare Share Savings Program. Through the constellation of clinical and business activities Dr. Williams strives to bring greater value to patients through collaboration across disciplines, creating alignment to enable growth and accountability for the clinical outcomes, social impact and associated financial risk of healthcare consumers of all communities.

Over the years Dr. Williams has served on a number of local boards and committees. He was one of the founding members of the Carolinas Association for Community Health Equity (CACHE), as well as founding member of BP Basketball, Inc. He has engaged the Charlotte community through memberships and activities in a variety of businesses, universities, and organizations such as the Urban League of the Central Carolinas, the American Heart Association, One Charlotte Health Alliance, Harvey Gantt Center for African-American Arts+Culture, just to name a few. Currently he serves on the Wake Forest School of Business Charlotte Executive Board.

The foundation of Dr. Williams is his family, his wife Dr. Adelle Anthony-Williams a practicing anesthesiologist, and his two sons, Christien a 4th year college student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Julian a 4th year high school student at Charlotte Country Day. They enjoy travelling as a family and connecting with people of different cultures throughout the world. When it is time to relax Dr. Williams enjoys golf, relaxing with friends, and enjoys listening to live jazz.
